Petrea Savige, Poet:

"Its history should be told. It is as rare and unlikely a story as many of the stories of invasion of this ancient land by custom, belief, or different sense of time, if not of invasion of conversion.

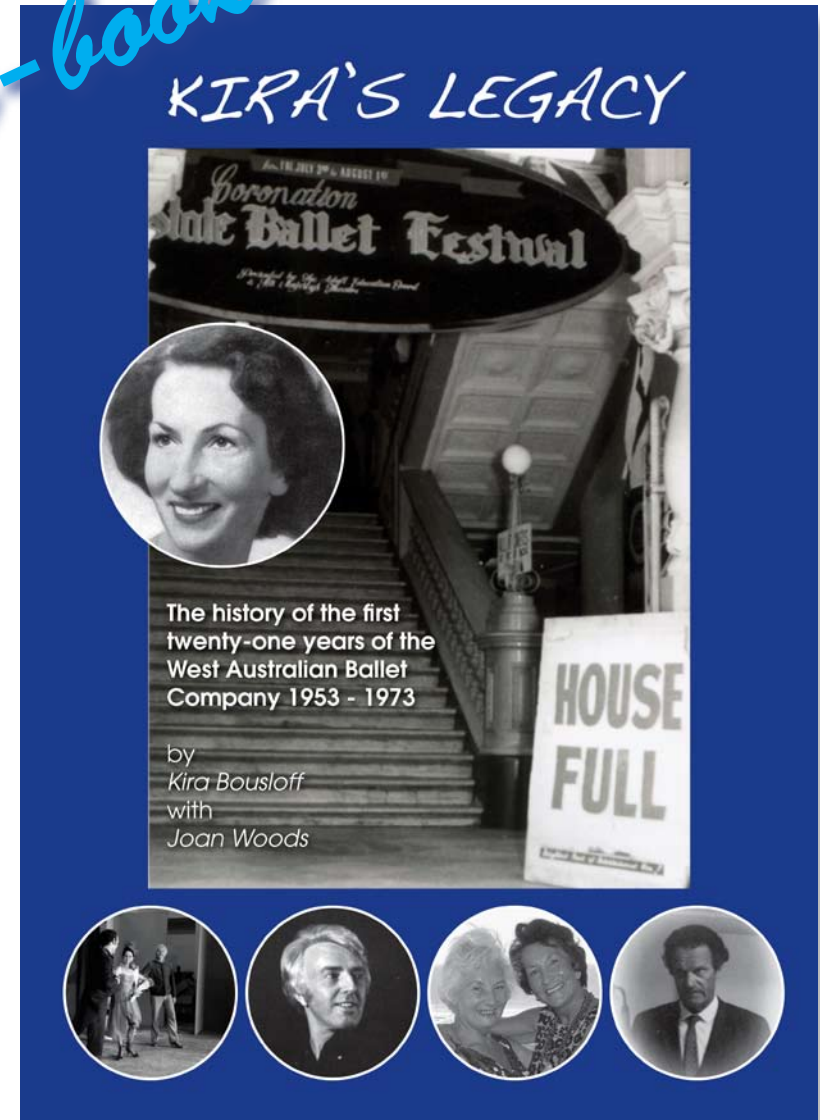

It is remarkable to read the history Joan presents. The story of Mde Kira Bousloff of the Ballet Russe, her first dance school – and her great artistic drive and the company caught up in the great creative and collaborative vision – and in such a different place."

Wendy Crellin, pupil of Edouard and Mde Borovansky:

"Ballet is life:- it dances into the human spirit, and is the ultimate expressive medium – in the fullest sense.... Introduce music to movement, and then you have dance. A child taught ballet well is always a dancer.

Kira's Legacy has captured the life and soul of Mde Kira Bousloff, so true of her as a dancer, teacher, and nurturer of this beautiful art form: ballet."
